

The dotted lines denote the recommended area for the placement of images.
The sizes shown include a 3mm bleed, which should be allowed for when designing your LifeBook.
You may of course, bridge the centrefold if your image "really works".

